VOL. X NO. 2

What is the purpose of celebrating Halloween? It is not a day of thanksgiving, the celebration of the birth or resurrection of a savior, the birthday of a nation, or a memorial to soldiers who gave their lives for their country. Centuries ago, Halloween began as a religious holiday, and is still a religious observance in some foreign countries. However, in America it seems to bring out the "devil" in some people. Halloween is a wonderful excuse for breaking off car radio antennas, knocking over outhouses (which are few and far between today), soaping windows, throwing rotten eggs and tomatoes on porches, stealing highway signs, and shooting out street lights. I have to admit one thing though, there are two points that can be used in defending the preservence of Halloween:

1) It is a time to get lots of free candy, and 2) The ugly masks worn sometimes improve peoples' looks. You know, purpose or no purpose, when one considers the last two points, it would be nice if every day were Halloween!

PARKS HOUSE CHOICE: DICK NIXON
By Dwight Smith

The Parks House mock election returns are in and from the results, the voters are very independent. The GOP swept the ballots on the national level with Dick Nixon and Spiro Agnew collecting 30 votes. In second place was Hubert Humphrey and Edmund Muskie with 13. Third Party candidate George Wallace and Curtis LeMay got three votes. Write-ins included Eugene McCarthy 4, Edward Kennedy 1, Kennedy-McCarthy 1, and Pat Paulson 2.

The Democrats were just as strong on the local level as the GOP was on the national. For governor, Robert L. Rock, a candidate who won his party's nomination by only two votes, defeated his Republican rival Edgar D. Whitcomb by a 34-17 margin. Prohibition Melvin E. Hawk received one vote. One of the issues in that campaign was that Whitcomb would appoint trustees to IU that would vote against open visitation.

Democratic Birch Bayh kept his seat in the Senate as he defeated Republican William D. Ruckleshaus by a 34-18 vote. There was no great issue in this race. Ruckleshaus tried to taint Bayh's voting record, but the voters of Parks House were not swayed away.

The referendum on pari-mutuel betting on horse racing in Indiana had 38 in favor and 17 against.

FOR WHOM DOES
THE BELL TOLL...
IT TOLLS FOR THEE

By McClellon D. Cox
Governor

Well, it is almost time for Mid-Term marks to go in, and I know that Parks House will be overrun with freshmen on the Dean's List. All you have to do is be patient, and your marks will be sent to the registrar for better or worse--and then The Bell Tolls!

We have come along for two months, and I have been evaluating the cohesiveness of the 3 floors. The 1st floor seems on the whole to be fairly close as a floor, and they do take an active part in house functions. The third floor could stand improvements as far as house participation is currently concerned, but they are a cohesive group floor-wise. The second floor seems to lag when it comes to house functions, though the floor is together with Duffy's, Rodney Q. Pharf, ChasTITY, and the rest. I hope that as a member of the house you will let us be a United House of Wright Quad.

Doctor Barton enjoyed his dinner here on Sunday; he is looking forward to dining with us again in the future. The Hayride, also, is on Friday Nov. 1, 1968. Please be ready and dress appropriately for the "weather".

Your governor regrets that it took so long to get our visitation policy passed; all I can say is that this is part of the bitterness of life--Green leaves.

Good Luck on your Mid-Terms; if you need help speak to me. If it is not too late I will try to get help for you--before all The Bells Toll.

Finally: Happy Halloween!

BOYD HAHN, SOCIALITE

Tomorrow night, November 1, there will be a hayride for the men of Parks House and their dates. It will be on the Allen White farm near Ellettsville--and there will be a bonfire following the ride. So far, there have been only fourteen couples registered so there are plenty of spaces open if anyone else wants to go. We will leave Bloomington around seven.

The hayride is the only planned social event, but there have been many suggestions for other activities. Mrs. Barton suggested last Sunday that we have a Christmas party at their house after we have gone caroling or something like that. We will probably discuss this at the next house meeting so if anyone has any thoughts on it, please bring them up there. Also for Christmas, we have discussed a community service party for a group of underprivileged children. If you know of any group, please contact me. We have also mentioned sponsoring a debate in the main lounge. This debate would be on some controversial subject (as between Dr. Greenleaf and Bill McConnehey on open visitation). Again any suggestions either on topics or on people we could invite would be appreciated.

FIRE DRILL REMINISCENCE

Our first fire drill of the year turned out to be a great success. It can certainly be said that the Parks House men were "fired up" over the whole thing. It was encouraging to note also that the men of the first floor were filled with the Halloween spirit, even though it was only October 29. One has to admit that their costumes were unique, as well as colorful!

During a fire drill have:

1. Curtains open.
2. Window closed.
3. Lights on.
4. Closet doors shut.
5. All other doors open.

Everyone is to leave the building during a fire drill (for safety reasons).

Let's see if we can't make our next fire drill bigger and better than the last.

PARKS HOUSE TEN COMMANDMENTS

By Former Grenadier Larry Rose

1. Thou shall shout "showers!" before flushing toilets (or else POW).
2. Thou shall not "hock" in the drinking fountains (or get Killed if caught).
3. Thou shall study at the proper time and sleep at the proper time.
4. Participate when one wants and has time.
5. Thou shall visit one cultural event this year.
6. Thou shall try to eat the food in the dorm.
7. Thou shall not gross out the maid on the floor.
8. Thou shall consider the guy next door and keep the noise down.
9. Thou shall not hold out on a beer for a friend.
10. Study your bottom off, "you're in college."

--That Tony the Tiger (Gary Anthony) is an authority on physiology; he goes home every other week to check on his 12 cats.

--That last night Rodney Q. Pharf (Boyd Hayn) got a Crank Call? Her name was Ann Landers.

--That ChastITY (Pat Magill) is bound to receive a seal of good housekeeping with all the Bums that he keeps in his room?

--That Frenchie Tick. . .(Bill McConnehey) moved in the Board of Vice Governors meeting to place improvements in the men's rooms like colored tissue paper?

--That Frank Kudla is Anti-Pole?

--That the Governor of Parks House can be seen in the dark?

--That Marty Nehring has long flowing "curls" or that Marty Kopchick hasn't shaved for a long time?

CENADIER'S GRINDERELLA TEAM--
(NO PUNT INTENDED)

By Larry "Butt" Bottoms

In the first football game, the Parks House Grenadiers overwhelmed their opponents 14 to 4, men that is. The game was won by a forfeit, the score--well your guess is as good as mine.

The Grenadiers felt the agony of defeat by losing 4 to 0 in their second title. The defensive effort of Mark "Lard" Harvey, Bruce "Killer" Kiesling, and Larry "Butt" Bottoms were drowned out by the poor offensive playing of Eric "Boe Legs" Crosley, Bob "Knot Knees" Delph and Joe "Pussy Foot" Fiscel. Two safeties were the deciding factors of the game.

Again in the third game, the Parks House gang tasted defeat, NASTY!! The Grenadiers fell victims of the Dodds House Boys by a score of 18 to 6. The game was closely contested although the score may not reveal this. Again the great defensive team of "Killer" and "Butt" ("Lard" was out of the game with a test to study for) was very outstanding. Many of the team's fine

PARKS HOUSE WINS AGAIN

An article should be written about Parks House winning the Wright Quad yell contest preceding the pep rally for the Illinois football game. What we won is a philosophical question. The only thing that can be said about the contest is that Parks House men were present and yelling.

(Does this article make you think that writing the article was a good idea but the end product turned out to be a flop? Good, because that is what I am trying to say about the yell contest!)

defensive plays were nullified by the blindness of the one sided referees (it should be stated that the referees were not on our side).

The fighting Grenadiers ended the season with a fine record of one win and two losses! Leading scorer was Bob Delph with six points (only score of the season). We will be looking forward to seeing the guys in action next year!

NOTICE OF CLOSING

PARKS HOUSE--Due to open guest hours, the Parks House TV room, room 306, will no longer be open for business. The reason given by joint owner Alan Oliver was that the residents will be exercising their right to have guests in their room for study purposes. Others will not be permitted in the room during this time. It was suggested by one of the residents that the Grenadiers find an antenna for the TV in the lounge which is not being used. If they wish to continue watching TV, they will have to find another because of this closing.

CHANGES IN PARKS HOUSE DIRECTORY

Several changes have occurred in room occupancy since the Parks House Directory was published in September. They are as follows:

- Room 102, add Larry Lane, a Junior
- Room 110, add Michael Sevell, a Freshman
- Room 205, Allen Jones has moved
- Rooms 208 and 209, Ronald Cook has moved to 209 and Ronald Ferguson has moved to 208
- Room 211, Randall Strode has moved
- Room 212, James Legg has moved
- Room 309, add Patrick Hanlin, a Freshman

AN UNTITLED PROTEST

Red and Swollen tears tumble from her eyes

While cold silver birds who came to cruise the skies Send death down to bend and twist her tiny hands

And then proceed to target, be it keeping with their plans.

Khaki priests of Christendom, interpreters of love

Ride a stone leviathan across a sea of blood

And pound their feet into the sand of shores they've never seen

Delegates from the Western Land to join the Death Machine.

And we send cards and letters.

The oxen lie beside the road, their bodies baked in mud

And fat flies chew out their eyes and bathe themselves in blood.

And superheroes fill the skies, tally sheets in hand

Yes, keeping score in times of war takes a superman.

The junk crawls past hidden death, its cargo shakes inside

And soldier-children hold their breath and kill them as they hide

And those who took so long to learn the subtle ways of death

Lie and bleed in paddy mud with questions on their breath.

And we send prayers and praises.

I.U. Student Getting Tired Of 'Concerned Parents' Gripes

To the Editor of The Star:

I am a senior at Indiana University and I am getting tired of reading letters from "concerned" parents and alumni regarding Indiana University's open-dorm policy. I wish to make four points:

1. If the students had been brought up in a Christian home by parents who were concerned about the moral development of their children while they were growing, there would be no need for anyone to be concerned now.

2. Of the 68 per cent of the parents voting against the policy, (which includes only parents who answered the questionnaire), what per cent actually know what the policy is all about? Most people I talk to just know that members of the opposite sex are allowed to visit in our "bedrooms"

(which happen to be our homes for nine months of the year). Have they talked to students who participated in open-visitation last spring?

3. If a student uses the open-dorm policy for illicit sex, which so many people argue, he certainly will not allow abolishment of the policy to effect his way of life.

4. If parents and alumni are really "concerned" about morality, I encourage them to look into the types of movies being shown at the movie houses. I think one will find that the standards of morality shown in these movies contribute more to the moral decay of your young adults than any open-dorm policy here on our Indiana University campus (or any place else) ever will.
