EDITOR'S "ecstasy"

The faces on our cover were provided by Larry Bottoms and Pat Magill. The rest of the page was drawn by the Foundation of this publication with the advise and consent of the other Bureaucrats, Alan Oliver and Larry Bottoms--not that it was necessary.

Congratulations go out to Grenadiers Don Cox and Bill McConnehey (and to East Chicago Roosevelt) for their fine and impressive victories this past week. The men of Parks House are honored and privileged to have among them two men of such high esteem. We have confidence in the ability of our Student Government to accomplish its goals.

To Due to the ignorance of U.S. postal authorities, a copy of the Anniversary Issue, which had been wandering around the State of California (4th Class) trying to locate Miss Phyllis Diller, was returned to my office (1st Class) undelivered. If anyone understands the intricacies of our mail service please clue me in. All I know is that I have an undelivered SCRIBE and that I'm out 18¢. Don't worry, Phyllis, we'll try it again.

Restitution Time: To Timothy Yeager who said that I was "all wet" because I removed the plastic "protective" covering from our mimeograph stencils: The Parks House SCRIBE will continue to remove them because we know what's best. It's not our fault you buy cheap typewriters.

To the Harney Heretic: If you insist on using profanity when speaking of the Parks House SCRIBE, the least you could do is spell it correctly.

 Parks House sweatshirts and stationery are still on sale in Room 305. Sales so far this year have added over $20 to the House Treasury. This more than makes up for the House dues that some have refused to pay.

From the GOVERNOR

by Larry Bottoms

It is only appropriate to begin by thanking you, the men of Parks House, for elevating me to my new position as Governor. It is with great honor and pride that I accept this most important position. Parks has had many good Governors. With the help of the men in the house I feel that I can maintain the great precedent that these men have set.

Secondly, I would like to congratulate the other newly elected officers of the house: Pat Magill, Pat Williams, Fred Truden, Colby Knerr, and Marc Buickel.

Our house is only what we make it. Take pride in Parks, strive to make it not one of the best but the best. As I have said before, I believe participation is the basic building block for a well organized and unified house. All I ask is to give the house a chance, give yourself a chance.

In the few days that I have been governor, I have been quite active. I have talked to most of you to see what you expect of me and the house. Through a brief house council meeting and a Board of Governors meeting (Sunday I had the dubious honor of attending my first Board meeting which lasted no less than three and a half hours), I have made myself familiar with the problems facing us as dorm dwellers. I have come to the conclusion that it is going to be hell, but together we can make it.

In closing I would just like to remind you that this is your house. It is what you make it. Give a damn.

counselor's
comments

by Bill Van Wert

The award-winning staff of the SCRIBE have asked me to say a few more witticisms to the men of the house. Actually, they just wanted to take my picture over again.

I would like to officially announce that I have moved into my room, that it is clean, and that Lesta has even cleaned it herself. Consequently, anyone can come and visit. It's sometimes healthy to talk to someone who is older and wise in the ways of the world. That's how the Pope continues to cope with faith, hope... and all that other stuff.*

I've made a study of some of the graffitti floating around Wright Quad - in the bowls and out. Some good elementary poetry but real bad prejudices. Wow. If this were still the McCarthy era, those stall-walls would have been photostated by now. Speaking of stalls (no, not the Nixon kind), I attribute the odiferous anxieties of some of the men of the house to a) the high school basketball tournaments, b) the Health Center dumping their excess ether in our water, c) dirty politics and d) the lack of privacy in the showers. Don't you agree with me that it's time we had private stalls in private installments?

Since the last issue of the SCRIBE there has been a coup d'etat at the highest echelon and as a result, the House has plunged to "rock-Bottoms". Se-

HELP!

by John Bleicher

Now that I'm no longer Governor, I'll bet you thought you'd heard the last from me, right? WRONG! I, from my new position, shall continue to pollute the SCRIBE with my "words of wisdom" from the world of Student Government.

All seriousness aside, it will soon become obvious that I do not have the intelligence to stay out of Student Government. All I need now are some equally crazy people to help me in my new work.

I am a member of the IRHA Rules and Regulations Sub-Committee, which has students, faculty, and administration working together to try to solve campus problems. We make our recommendations to the Central Halls of Residence Committee, which has the power of implementation. Here is a list of the topics I will be directly concerning myself with.

1. Security: Building & residents
2. Search and Seizure
3. Use of facilities past closing
4. Parking
5. Fire Safety

Other topics being discussed by the Committee include:

1. Over-night guests
2. Drinking
3. Visitation
4. Conduct Code
5. Signs and mailbox stuffings requiring signatures
6. Legality of contracts
7. Possibility of one-semester contracts.

Through this Committee I hope to be able to do something about those problems the Board of Governors can only talk about. I feel this Committee can be of great service to the residents, but only if we enlist help! It is obvious that some of these

PARKS HOUSE J-BOARD

by Kurt Kaboth

In the continuing experiment of our R.A.-less House, the Parks House Judicial Board has been organized and placed in full operational order. Glenn Patterson was elected by the Board to be Chairman and Alan Oliver is the Board's Secretary. Other members of the Board include: Ron Norfleet, Bob Smith, and Fred Ambler. These men will meet to hear complaints against members of the House.

The J-Board is an instrument of our House for the preservation of acceptable patterns of living for the members of the House. The main emphasis of the J-Board is the re-direction of irregular behavior into more acceptable forms. The J-Board is made up of students, who best know the problems of other students. The J-Board can best decide then what is acceptable behavior in individual discipline cases.

The House J-Board has jurisdiction over all members of the House who violate House, Quad, or I.R.H.A. rules and regs. In addition, they may handle cases involving University or Halls of Residence rules violations.

The following is the procedure for referring a discipline case to the Parks House J-Board:

1. Alleged Violation
2. Write-up on Referral Form
3. Violator Signs Referral
4. Referral is given to Governor, Vice-Governor, or a Floor Representative
5. They give it to the J-Board Chairman
6. The Chairman sets a hearing date
7. The hearing

The J-Board in order to enforce the rules may restrict a member's social activities (including open visitation), require special projects for the House, fine up to $ 10, refer a case to

AN OPEN LETTER

from McClellon Don Cox

The Wright Quad elections are over; we have our new officers for the next school year. I am extremely happy to have been elected to be your president. It was a close race, but I thank you for having enough confidence in me to believe that I could do the job.

Congratulations to the other members of the cabinet; I am sure that it will be a pleasure working with them. Congratulations to the other candidates who did not win, for their fine sportsmanlike civility throughout the entire campaign. I will be hoping to work with you all throughout the next year, your campaigns evidenced some good ideas which you are welcome to present.

Thanks, much thanks, very much thanks to my campaign staff, Kurt, Colby, Linda, Glenn, Cal, and Nick, plus anyone else I left out.

It is a very good feeling to be your president; I will do my very best to carry out the things that I stated on my platform. Any and all ideas are welcomed, too; "Don Cox will listen to you".

Finally I would like to recognize Tim Yeager, three cheers for you Tim! Thanks very much for the wealth of information that I have learned from you.

Now, is the time when all good men and women must go to work,

LET US CONTINUE:

by Bill McConnehey

I am very pleased to be able to contribute an article to the SCRIBE both as the Vice-President and the Vice-President-elect. I thank all of you who voted for me. I really should have been more confident, for when the MEN of PARKS are behind someone, he cannot fail.

I am particularly happy over the rejection of Mr. Berg's contention that student government has done nothing for the residents of Wright. I feel that the success of the executives who ran again shows that you believe we have done a good job. I am also appreciative of the voter turn out, which was approximately 60%. This disproves the widespread political apathy Mr. Berg bemoaned.

Finally, if anyone has ideas, programs, or complaints about student government, be sure to bring them to either your house officers or the executives. If you are a student, you are a part of student government. Student government can only be effective with the support of the people, so let's all do our best to back the house and our co-sponsor in the up-coming Mini. After all, we do want the women of Boisen to refer to us as the MEN of PARKS HOUSE. . .

and so I will go to work for you. It will be a personable, humorous, and constructive year I pray, working together!

ELECTION REVIEW

QUAD ELECTION

A referendum was also held on coeducational housing. It read as follows:

"Considering the fact that Read Center will be going co-ed next year, there will be an over abundance of females in that residence hall. Would you favor the addition of more women's units at Wright Quad, even if you may be forced to move to another unit in Wright Quad?"

Yes 323 No 162

Two Constitutional Amendments were put before the people for their approval. In order to be approved, they needed the support of 2/3rds of those voting. They were as follows.

1. Are you in favor of amending Article VI, Section 2, Sub-section b, of the Joseph A. Wright Quadrangle Constitution which now reads as follows: "There shall be at least one sophomore, one junior, and one senior on the Judicial Board." be changed

AN INTERESTING QUESTION

by Colby Knerr

During the last few weeks of quad presidential campaign speeches, I saw four candidates who all appeared to have one thing in common. That was an intense desire to better Wright Quad. Steve Sellers considered asking each candidate at the debate Monday night what they would do to better the quad if they were not elected.

It's an interesting question and I'm curious to see how Stan, Dave, and Tim do react to quad conditions now that they have not been elected to the position they all sought. I hope they all display more post-election involvement than was seen of last year's candidates for quad president. Each of these three candidates has much to offer in the way of political talent and knowledge that could benefit Wright Quad.

NOT TO BE BELIEVED

by Wayne Hart

A lot of people have asked me why I would withdraw from the election when things were looking so good. I think that they deserve an answer. I wish I had a good one. It boils down to the fact that I thought Larry would do a better job.

I analyzed my reasons for running for governor and didn't like what I found. I wanted the fame, the glory, the prestige, and the power of being a governor. I wanted the title of governor and not the job. Everybody who runs for an office enjoys the title but they should want the job too. I would have pushed for what I wanted and then been a bad governor. That would not have been a good governor. Therefore, I withdrew and let the better man win.

SUPPORT BOISEN AND PETERSON'S

by Colby Knerr

In spite of the fact that it snowed earlier this week, Spring has arrived and with it are coming many possibilities for social activities (Funcannon has already thought of a few of his own.) The biggest Spring event is, of course, the Little 500 weekend, and Parks House is already involved in it. We are sponsoring Boisen I in the Mini 500 Race and we are also peddling in the Regatta! With house support both of these events can prove to be a lot of fun, so I urge all of you to help by encouraging and cheering both teams at their practices whenever possible.

I also at this time would like to thank those who have been helping Delivery Boy Colby through school by ordering food from Peterson's Delicatessen and Bakery. I hope all of you continue to order. I personally guarantee all of the food to be better than the dorm food.

I will continue to take orders between 8:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. Thanks again for your business.

are tough problems which cannot be handled by a small number of people. If any of you are interested in doing some work towards the positive solution of these problems, please let me know. We need your help!!!

Amount spent at stores for $1 worth of Nite Owl's groceries	$.867	$.844	$.846	$.875	$ 1.000

Food stores included in the above survey are: A & P Tea Company, 400 North College Ave.; Kroger, Eastland Plaza; Standard, College Mall; IGA, Crosstown; and Nite Owl Food Mart, corner of Third and Jordan. Kroger and Standard give trading stamps.

Items selected for the sampling were not scientifically random-selected. The original list of groceries included 39 different items and sizes, but the final list includes only those items which could be found in all five stores. The only concrete conclusion one can draw from the above results is that if you would buy this specific list of groceries at both Kroger and Nite Owl, you will end up paying 18.4% more at Nite Owl than at Krogers.

Nite Owl is basically a "convenience store", so the store does not expect to have the sales volume other stores might have. The store has to make up for low volume by charging higher prices. But Kroger, A & P, Standard, and Crosstown are all very competitive. Since latest figures indicate that the average cost to operate a car is about 16-17 cents a mile, it looks as if the Grenadiers ought to start walking to Crosstown. And by the way, a two pound bag of pop corn at Crosstown's IGA is 33¢, compared with the next lowest price of 39¢ at the other three competitive stores.

FIRST FLOOR ACTIVITY

by Fred Truden

Well folks, here we are again with First Floor Activity. There has been a bit of action since the last edition of the "dearly beloved SCRIBE".

First of all I would like to personally plug Colby's delicatessen service. It really is too bad that the food is rotten, the service is crummy, and Colby is turning into a pollution expert because of the profits.

--The janitorial board of engineers deserves a hearty slap on the back for their marvelous feat of jamming a four foot, six inch metal partition into a space of four feet, five inches.

--Nightly exercises have been of vogue for nearly a month now. Gee, you can sure tell it, too. Now the "thing" is playing cards and especially hearts.

--The rack monster has been visiting room 105 especially, and all of Parks House 1st, for that matter. C'mon guys, let's get out of the old sack and go to class. --It has been stated that John Petrie--former Greenie of the year--is out to repeat for the second year, consecutively.

--Steve Smiley has found that he is in for a Terri-ble time--I guess it's back to the old Megopolis.

--Congratulations are in order to James Harrison for writing a very humorous speech in the last SCRIBE.....It may also be noted that his picture was also included.....

--Did you notice that a lot of boressing has ceased to exist now that John B. isn't Governor anymore. John, that doesn't mean you were a big boress, does it? --All kidding aside, I retract that statement.

--Next on the agenda is Joe Brown How is Pat? Also, describe Three Dog Night in 50 words or less.

--Has anyone seen Hooper Downs lately, now that he lost the Quad election. He's probably held captive in Harney House.

BUTT'S BULL

by Larry Bottoms

After talking about girls and small town "hicks" what could be more important than drinking--and I don't mean cokes!

There are many different kinds of alcoholic beverages which one may consume. Some prefer rum and coke, slow gin, wine, and many others. As for me, give me beer (Budweiser) or let me die of thirst.

The third floor has the title of being a bunch of drunks. For the exception of Dave and Big Al we thank you. Our floor could be classified as a liquor store because of the great variety of booze we have and have consumed. At the same time we on third floor do not want to take anything away from the first floor and Pat Magnuson.

The trend on the third floor seems headed by Pat Williams. I consider Pat a first class wino, drinking an average of a quart a day. Pat, however, argues that he is a great connoisseur of wine. My outlook for Pat is to watch out for Skid Row and the gutters.

The consumption of such beverages affects people in many different ways. In the recent weeks I have had the opportunity to observe many different reactions which alcohol has on its victims. At the present time I would like to expand on my observation.

Let us begin with the first floor and work our way up. Colby is the first on the list. For all of you who haven't heard yet, Colby just recently turned twenty-one. Since his latest birthday he has been very busy running to the bars. Colby, when drunk, is relatively dumbfounded. He says not a word while his eyes are glassy and immovable.

APLOMB UNLIMITED

by Kurt Kaboth

Well, to tell the truth, I didn't really intend to do any writing for this issue of the SCRIBE. At the time this is being written, I should be studying for a J111 Midterm, however, there are mitigating circumstances. Late the afternoon of this date I found that I was on Dave Tutacko's most maligned list; my name was placed prominently on the House door under a statement which said that the deadline for articles was being extended for deadbeats like me. Now who wants his name in bad standing with his Holiness. In addition, who wants to study for a J111 exam.

So here I am in black and white, not knowing just what to say, but saying it. I could report some of the House and Quad activities of the House members and since I can't think of anything else, I guess I will.

First off, as you know, we have a new set of House officers. Big bad Larry Bottoms is now our Governor, if he can hold his temper for a year. Pat Magill returns for his second straight term as Vice-Governor. (Someone else we know who combs his hair back with initials R.R. is going to attempt the same feat. We can only hope he is as lucky as Pat. Pat Williams won the highly contested office of Secretary. He'll be O.K. if he can write better than he can walk on weekends. Treaz is Fred Truden, who better know how much money we have. Colby Knerr, old and new Social Chairman should keep his campaign promise of a in every . And Athletic Chairman, Marc (I spelled it right) Buickel should be good. If nothing else, we have the best cheerleader of any House. Support these officers. They're all we've got.

Moving right along, the House Judicial Board is finally truely operable. Glenn Patterson,

THE SHADOW

Who knows what evil lurks in the hearts of men? Only the Shadow knows. Well friends, it seems that it is that time again. Your friendly Shadow makes the report for the past few weeks.

It seems that most of the past few days have been cluttered with the election of campus issues and Quad elections. As far as Quad elections are concerned, I wonder why questions were planned by Magill for the debate. Prepared questions planted in the audience, Pat? Of course not!

Well, Tom Kelly scores again.

Muncie Central lost. Sheryl was in his room most of last week and he scored those blues--could they be love-sick blues, Tom? Don't quote me!

Colby is 21 years old. Yet, he doesn't look a day over 13. Come on Colby, tell us your age. You could not be 21!

It seems that Art Topper cut his curls off. They would not accept long curly hair from his part of the "country". They call his home Texas, I believe.

Magill, well it is about time. The horns are growing disproportionately, so hurry to Florida before you get yourself into difficulty.

It seems that John has been replaced by Larry. I thought that it would be impossible to replace John's mouth but Larry just might pull it off. Open wide, Larry.

Allen seems to be losing weight in his face. It must be shifting to his abdominal cavity. Get with it Big Al-- it's time for physical fitness.

God Save the Queen and good old "Mouse". Mike drove his roommate away, so it seems. "Mike, you are going to learn to cohabit better with your fellow human beings."--god

If Adam and Eve can have another chance I guess John and Sheryl can, too. What do you two think?

THIRD FLOOR FIDDLE-FADDLE

by Gary Hitch

I've never written fiddle faddle before, but seeing how it has been written in the past I have a definite advantage. I decided right off that my best preparation for writing this article would be to not re-read past fiddle faddles, and this I have diligently not done.

The most startling (or least boring) event that has happened on the third floor is the surge of house power. Marc Buickel and Pat Williams have been elected as Athletic Chairman and Secretary, respectively--or irrespectively, depending on how you voted. Marc muscled his way into position after appearing at a house meeting in nothing else but his HPER shorts, but despite this meager dress not much was seen. What can you do with sixty pounds of chicken fat anyway? For Pat it was a hot and heavy race until a spontaneous, wild demonstration at the house meeting assured his victory. Problems developed in removing Pat's loyal rooters (both of them) from the floor. Pat won the election as if he were unopposed!

Our new Governor is third floor's one and only Butt. Congrats and all that, Larry, and I won't even say that we scraped the "bottom" to get you. There's such a nice ring to the name "Governor Butt". Inspirational.

Bill McConnehey maintained our floor's status by his re-election as Quad Vice-President. Upon hearing of his re-election, Bill was so happy that he ran out and celebrated. Rumor says he would have anyway.

A number of mustaches have appeared on our floor. Besides Connehey's old reliable, Joe Fiszel has grown a mustache, Gary Graham has a mustache, and, well George--let his hair grow long.

I went to Big Al's room recently to find out about writing this column, but Al was "too busy" to be bothered. Why after all, while I was there he must have rolled over three times! I had an interesting chat with Big Al's Sweet Potato Plant. Although unhappy at coming in second in the house treasurer race, Plant assured me that she would not leave politics. (And I may be jumping to conclusions, but I think the plant has an eye for me, or two, or forty-seven!)

We have discovered that the notorious "Sponge" can read, by hearing his comments about the last issue. Read-yes, catch on-no. I won't even mention that he still owes me Richard III.

I would write more, but even I haven't read this far.

FILLER OR, WHAT WE COULDN'T FIT ANYWHERE ELSE AND DON'T REALLY WANT TO FIT IN, BUT WE HAVE THIS MUCH SPACE LEFT ON THIS PAGE

by Kurt Kaboth

Well here I am again, just getting ready to bore you to tears. Would you believe my major is journalism? I don't. So here are the latest developments right up to press time.

First, it seems there will be an airline controllers strike and a weekend snowstorm halting traffic around the country. Pity on the gentlemen (and I use the term loosely for one of them did beat me severely about the head and other regions) who maybe staying in Bloom-Bloom over vacation. Well that's the old girlfriend at another school game. Pity you horny guys, you.

Secondly, Kelly, it seems does not know the difference between a socialist and a communist. Dummy, everyone knows that Cal is our resident socialist and Dick our communist. Well there you are in front of the world, exposed and neither Colby, Pat, nor Dave did it. I did. HA HA!

So, I've filled 35 lines with nothing. Rah me!

ASK
MISS BAREFAX

Dear Miss Barefax,

I have this problem. You see, my fiance is entrapped up there in that awful place--1100 miles away from me! Those long, cold nights are so hard on him and these long, lonely nights are murder on hot-blooded little me! How can I get my lover to forsake that awful place and come to sunny, warm, beautiful, enjoyable Florida where all the friendly Floridians (and misplaced Californians) live? I know I could make him see the attributes of Florida if he were here!

Signed,
LONESOME IN LA

Dear L.,

Just keep talking!

Signed,
MISS B.

Dear Miss Barefax,

I--or should I say, WE, have a problem here on the Third Floor. There is one among us who sleeps all day long and then goofs off all evening. He goes up and down the hall boring people with all his problems and how much work he has to do. Yet, he does nothing! I've never seen anything like it! Everyone on the floor is on to his game. We constantly remind him but it does no good because this person has no shame. I doubt, if you can help us, Miss Barefax, but I see no hope.

Signed,
FED UP

Dear F.U.

Tell the Mormon Church people. He might "prophet" from the exposure.

Signed,
MISS B.

Dear Miss Barefax,

I'm worried about one member of the Second Floor. One day he was lying on the floor with cream all over his clothes. I was red with embarrassment. All he could answer to my questions was something about "Getting a lift!" What can be done about this sort of thing?

Signed, CONCERNED

Dear C.,

Try going down to the first floor sometimes!

Signed, MISS B.

Dear Miss Barefax, Is it true that Ma Deck-hand and Mr. Sailor are having an affair?

Signed, RETIRING CAFE WORKER

Dear R.C.W.,

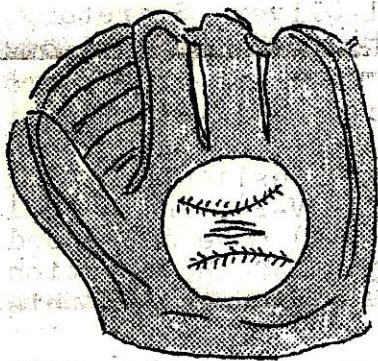

Yes, but don't spread it around! (Miss Billy-old might get jealous!) (Mr. Sailor???)

Signed, MISS B.

Dear Miss Barefax,

Exactly what does "Master" Knerr study on Friday nights?

Signed, Fairy Interested

COMING EVENTS

By Marc Buickel

For those who haven't noticed, Spring has arrived and again Parks House will be on the winning trail! We will have a softball team and things are looking great because we have some real crowd pleasers on the team.

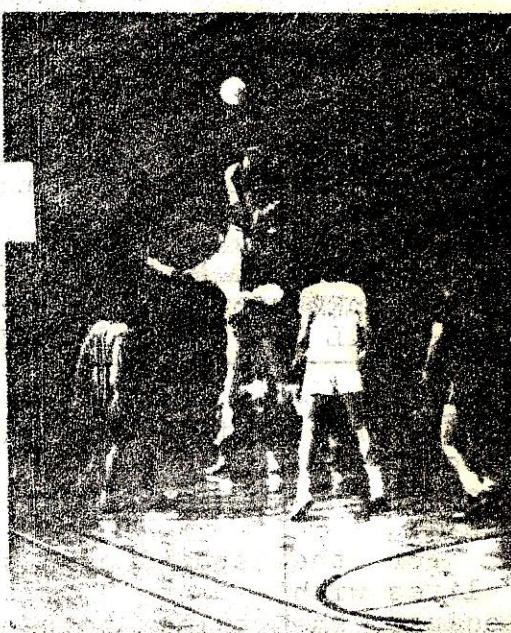

We have a lot of team and individual sports coming up in the next month. I hope to have a golf team.. If you are interested then see me before April 8. Tennis singles are also coming up so if you're interested see me before April 8. Likewise for bowling singles and doubles. For those of you who plan ahead, Track and Field has to be in by May 11.

Parks House will also attempt to qualify a team in the "Little 500" Regatta. It consists of Fred Ambler, Wayne Hart, Bob Smith, and Marc Buickel, with Larry Bottoms and Gary Graham as alternates. We will also have three girls from Boisen I to ride with us and they are Val Davis, Becky Endicott, and Theresa Pfau. Let's back our team and Boisen I in the "Mini". If there should be any questions about sports remember that I live in Room 310 and that the bar doesn't open until 1:00 p.m.

GRENADIERS WHIP STOCKWELL 49-43

by Marc Buickel

In the final game of their season, Parks A whipped the rinky-dinks from Stockwell. Jim Harrison led all scorers with the "Parks Acting Society", Gary Hitch pulling up a close second. Gary Graham, Marc Buickel and Larry Bottoms also threw baskets. We did have great team work which helped account for the fact that we led all the way. Then there was also another factor and that was that Stockwell wasn't any good. We did let them score just enough to make the game interesting. We would also advise Stockwell to forfeit next year's game now to save themselves from humiliation. Parks A would also like to acknowledge the press coverage of our romp over the goofs down the hall.

If it Wasn't So Funny, I'd Cry
 Look at her, she thinks she's cool.
 smoking like a grown-up fool.
 sneaking in a pack of ciggies,
 gonna drag some after school.
 She is the nicoteeny-bopper.
 no one really tries to stop her;
 getting cancer, she is sure will show the boys that she's mature.

JUNKIE?
 He has the bottle with the precious stuff.
 The worry is gone from his eye
 For if he had not got enough
 The chances are, he'd die.
 He fills the needle slowly
 (The wrong amount would harm)
 And mumbling something holy,
 He injects it in his arm.
 The potion is expensive but the user glad to pay;
 For it means the diabetic
 Will live another day.

POUND THE DRUMS AND HIT THE BASS

STAND AND FEEL THE TREBLE BLARE

HEAVY MUSIC THROUGH THE AIR
 thokka thokka thokka bap-bap
SOUND WAS MEANT TO BE THIS WAY

Ode to Lesta

L is for her little wrinkled forehead
 E because she enter while we're nude
 S is for the stupidness she lives with T because she tries to be so rude
 A is for her assininie insistence that we stay precisely in the rules,
 Put them all together; they spell
 LESTA:
 and in Lesta we get rid of her
 we're fools.

APLOMB, Cont.

Chairman, Al Oliver, Secretary, Ron Norfleet, Bob Smith, and Fred Ambler make up the board that will decide the validity of complaints against House members.

Don Cox (for President), Bill McConnehey (for V-P), and Sheryl Shipman (for V-P) have announced and the results of the election should appear elsewhere in this issue.

John Bleicher and Sheryl have been named to the Halls of Residence Subcommittees on Rules and Regs. Well there goes any chance of a change. They did, however, get the Party Room opened from 12-3 Sun. through Thurs. for coed study. I suspect they did it for themselves, but I will suspect it anonymously.

John, our ex-Governor (humor him and call him Gov. for a couple of weeks, he still thinks he's got some power) ran the presidential debate last Monday with his usual aplomb. That means he did a pretty good job for being my roommate.

Rodney Q. Farf has blown (?) his cover. He is in reality Boyd Hahn of second floor. The mysterious crank cell investigator has been de-belled and we can live in peace again. If he does call, however, don't answer.

That just about rounds it up, except to pat myself on the back which I will do now. I have successfully passed the selection and approval process (again) for the Quad Judicial Board, so I'm back on. Well next time don't be so stupid and waste your time by reading my article all the way through.

--Larry Lane, floor meanie, isn't floor meanie any more. He is off to start student teaching and end up in an enviable position. Not married--but graduated.

That's about all there is to say except that it's another one of those good months in the cafe. Tamale pie, prune cake, chicken, and all sorts of goodies.

riously, I think we should treat the new officers of the House with the greatest respect. After all, it's only a couple more days until vacation.

I have also noticed of late a growing epidemic of the hornies in the House. It's gotten so bad that one can't even play a single hand of hearts without somebody trying to shoot the moon or a single hand of euchre without somebody trying to play it alone. To alleviate this problem, I have been talking to some of the womens' houses around campus and have received several tentative challenges for volleyball and other outdoor activities for when the weather gets warmer.

My parting advice for this time is: "Get yourselves out of the sewer--be a connoisseur... or don't get caught in the morass--have a boress."

playing cards. Nice try, Pat, but when you throw the cards all over the place and can't even remember whose turn it is you are in bad shape.

The Second Floor has a unique drinker in Pete Bancoff. Pete is the only guy I know that can get drunk on one beer. At least it is cheaper that way.

When reaching the third floor I don't know where to begin. Let us start with Mr. McConnehey. Bill, after having a few drinks, falls down stairs. Bill isn't drunk, it's the stairs that are moving. Right, Bill?

Next there is the wino Mr. Williams. Pat is really cool when he is drunk. Normally, Pat has little to say but after a few drinks you can't shut him up.

Joe Fiszel is rather choice as to what girls he will associate with. However, after having a few nips he could care less what the girl looks like. Remember Jane, Joe?

The basic view is that drinking is fun. I agree, so if anyone has an extra one, let me know!

the J.A.W.Q. J-Board, or most importantly, they may call for dialogue between feuding members or floors in the House.

The J-Board is not out to get violators, but only to help maintain some order when the individual efforts of the House members fail. The J-Board's most important reason for being is to create peer group pressure to bring House members together to solve the problems of dormitory living.

SHADOW, Cont.

Alan Cole, how does it feel to lie down in a comfortable and clean bed in comparison to a soiled reeking uncomfortable mess? I'm sure you could fill me in on the necessary details. If you can ever find the Shadow explain the feeling to me.

Gary Hitch loves to sleep on the floor. It appears that he likes such obscure positions but who could ever miss Gary--H-Hi.

Fred Truden has lost his cool--or did he ever have it. He is the talk of the town. For a free show, just go down to Parks First Floor anytime he's at home.

The Shadow would like to wish the members of Parks a very enjoyable Spring Vacation. Remember Easter and its significance. If you go to Florida, you will never get such a deep and beautiful tan as those that Reggie, Leroy, Ronnie, and Don possess. There is no human way possible. Regardless wherever you are, enjoy yourself.

The Shadow lurks behind the door of every room so beware--who knows where the Shadow will be next.

Peace-Peac-Pea-Pe-P---

...and the last time I was in the States, I had a chance to go to the beach and swim in the ocean. It was so funny because I had never been to the beach before. I just sat on the sand and watched the waves come in and
out. It was so peaceful and relaxing. I really enjoyed my time at the beach.

After I got back from my vacation, I was very tired and wanted to sleep. But I had to get up early in the morning to catch a train. So I had to wake up at 5 AM. It was really hard to wake up so early, but I knew I had to do it because I had to get to the train station on time. I tried to sleep in, but I just couldn't fall asleep.
So I ended up getting up at 5 AM and getting ready for the day. It was a long day, but I enjoyed myself. I had a great time at the beach and I'm already looking forward to my next vacation.

The end.

GETS YOU MOVING
